Monday September 21 from 7:00 to 8:30 pm.

The audition for the 3 actors will focus on improvisation and their willingness to adapt to a fast paced, fanciful production designed to delight children 12 and under.

They will be asked to choose to read one short selection from a number of plays from different genres. These readings will be provided at the audition. They will have time at the audition to prepare their reading.

There is no requirement to prepare an audition scene.

Reading the script in advance is recommended but not necessary.

Note: For each of the 18 performance the actors will select up to 25 youth (age 12 and under) at random from the audience to play special characters.

There are no scripted roles for children. A total of up to 425 children will have the opportunity to participate on stage.
